

The Birds Park

Destination: Iguazú

Description

The Birds Park is an internationally recognised rescue and conservation centre for birds, located in a 16 hectares premises in the middle of the rich and exuberant Rainforest, adjacent to the Iguazú National Park. There you'll experience a direct contact with amazing birds from all corners of Brazil and from several parts of the world, many of them endangered.

The Birds Park has three immersion aviaries and a butterfly house, in which you can enter and be side by side with toucans, scarlet ibises, macaws, jays and thrushes.

Over the course of this extraordinary tour you'll also find harpy eagles, owls, parrots and even reptiles such as alligators and the anaconda. In the middle of the trail, you'll observe a boa constrictor really closely. By the end, you can relax in the restaurant with an exclusive view across the Lake of Flamingos or take as a souvenir a picture holding a macaw.

Estimated duration: 2 hours.
